

PHIL BARNES

March 28, 2012

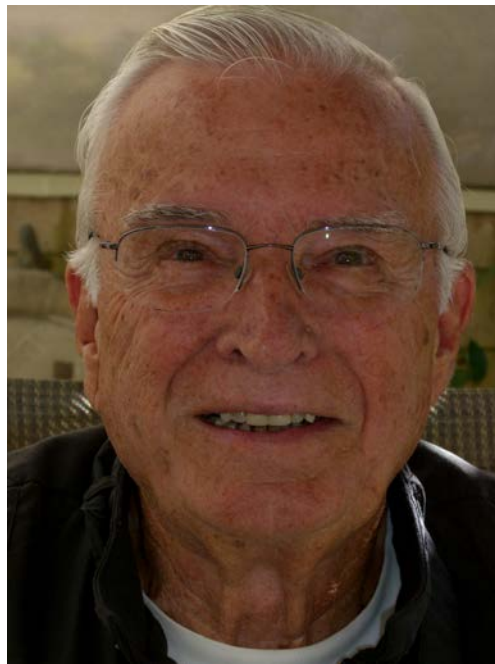

Before joining Monsanto I spent 20 years as an Aerospace Electronics Engineer. I joined Monsanto around 1973 and departed around 1985. My stay was wonderful. I enjoyed every minute of it.

When I joined Monsanto, my wife, June, and I lived in North Long Beach, California raising our four children. In 1974 we moved to Mission Viejo in Orange County. June and I have lived in Mission Viejo now for forty years.

When I departed General Instrument I joined AEG Telefunken, A German LED Company specializing in LED's and Lasers. I then spent 6 years as a Microwave Engineer with L&M Engineering selling Microwave components. In 1992 I started a Microwave Sales company called "Barnes & Associates". (My Navy years had prepared me for this.)

We have now been retired for 20 years and spending our time with hobbies and our home. I design, build and sell Electronic Metal Detectors as a hobby. I enjoy using my metal detector at nearby Laguna Beach.

We have a nice Motorhome which we use in Quartzsite, Arizona every year and we meet-up with the same wonderful people every year. This is our "Vacation".
