

ROZA FISCHER

April 19, 2012

I retired from Monsanto/GI after 15 years of employment. After retiring I enjoyed taking care of the neighborhood children, became a babysitter. Several children grew up under my care and even now, as they have become young adults, we keep in touch and visit me often. During my "golden age" my husband and I took many trips to Europe and explored several countries with great pleasure.

In 2005, I lost my husband after 59 years of marriage, and now I am a widow. After the passing of my husband, 6 weeks later I became a grandmother to a lovely little bundle of joy, William. He is finishing first grade now and absolutely loves school, studying and electronics. Perhaps he will be an engineer when he grows up. Once again in 2007 my younger son and his wife gave life to another little Fischer, Christopher, who is now 5 years old and will be starting kindergarten in the Fall. He is fascinated with wild life and just loves anything that is animal related. Now, I have two adorable grandchildren, William and Christopher. They are the love of my life, keeping me young, busy and entertained at all times. I live in Oakdale, CA with my older son, Steve, and his wife, Erika.
