

BOB JOHNSON

April 11, 2012

After a couple of years with General Instruments, I retired in 1981, and spent a few months traveling in Europe. In 1988 I successfully ran for election to the city council of the Town of Los Altos Hills (a separate city from Los Altos). I was reelected to two more terms, for a total of twelve years in office, and served three terms as Mayor. On retiring from the council in 2000, the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors appointed me to the board of directors of the local county fire district. They recently reappointed me to a fourth consecutive 4-year term on the board.

My wife Susi passed away in 2002, and in 2004 I married Rita, a widowed fellow resident of Los Altos Hills. Rita and I will be celebrating our eighth anniversary on the weekend of the Monsanto reunion.

The attached photo (with Rita) was taken in the former home of David and Lucille Packard, at a reunion of former mayors.
