In July 1978, I accepted an offer to join Bourns Inc. in Riverside, CA as Director of Equipment Engineering. The location allowed Dorothy and me to live at my newly designed home at Lake Arrowhead, CA. After three years of commuting up and down the mountain through any kind of weather, the commute began getting a little tiresome. I learned of an opportunity at Bourns-owned Precision Monolithics located in Santa Clara, CA. In 1981, I was offered a position at Precision Monolithics which I accepted. The job entailed establishing a Model Shop and supporting the electro-mechanical needs of the company's test and finish while manufacturing semiconductors.

With a rollover of time spent in Bourns Riverside, I spent 15 years with the Bourns Company until it was acquired by Analog Devices. I retired in 1991 from Analog Devices Inc. I did continue for a few years after, doing consulting work for a number of companies in Silicon Valley.

Dorothy and I traveled all over the West in our 30-Foot Coachmen Motor Home which we purchased in 1985. Travel included Canada, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Utah, and places like Tombstone, Arizona. Many of the trips included visiting friends and family. In addition we went to France with our offspring.

DOROTHY (WELLER) MORTON

In July 1978, we departed the Bay area to become residents of the Lake Arrowhead mountain community. Bill and I were married in October 1978. Winter snowstorms were a sight to behold as finding my way through the snow to the local market was a real challenge.

In 1981, Bill and I returned to the Bay area and bought a home in Santa Clara, CA in the heart of Silicon Valley. I worked as a Lead and Trainer of electronic assembly personnel with Litton until 1991 when I retired with Bill.

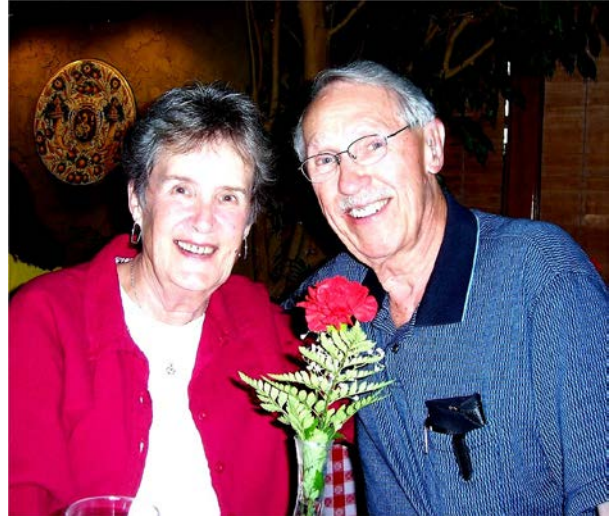

The location change brought me closer to my Dad and Mom as well as my beloved son Dr. Steven Lovejoy (Research Scientist at Lockheed). Activities have included travel throughout the West with husband Bill, as well as annual attendance with Steve and spouse, Dr. Thane Kreiner, at the Shakespeare Festival in Ashland, Oregon.

I have had 3 European trips, Italy and France with Steve and Thane, England with Steve, and France with Steve, Thane, and Bill.

We have enjoyed many gourmet meals prepared by gourmet cooks, Steve and Thane, at their gorgeous new custom-built home in Sebastopol, California right in the middle of the vineyards. Life is Good~ ~ ~!
